COMPANY VALUES

Winthrop Capital Management holds itself to the following Values:

*Character and Integrity define the person
Our Culture and Firm come before the individual
Always do the right thing for the client
Make a positive impact in someone's life every day*

THE WCM CULTURE:

Winthrop Capital Management describes its culture in the following way:

*We recognize that it is important for our clients to speak into all aspects of our firm.
We recognize the need to over-communicate in order to create transparency within WCM.
We seek to question and analyze to get to the truth rather than accept what is provided at face value.
We believe accountability rests with a person - not a committee.
We believe the value of a meeting is a function of the work that is done between the meetings.
We empower the employee to take the initiative to make thoughtful decisions that benefit the company and the client.
We are lifetime learners and recognize that we need to continue to learn in order to continue to grow.
We hold each other accountable for our actions and initiatives.
Every employee strives for excellence in all that he/she does both within the firm and for our clients.
We take responsibility for our actions and will take initiative on behalf of the company and our clients.
We recognize that we are all individuals and we respect each other for our differences, and encourage the continued development of each other's gifts.*
